

Local Author Showcase Application

Thank you for your interest in having a program for the item you have published. At the Rampart Library District we support our patrons in producing creative works of literature. In the showcase a group of local authors will be on a Question & Answer panel, have the opportunity to discuss their work, and be given space to sell their work.

The next Local Author Showcase will take place on:
Wednesday, October 9, 2019 2 p.m.

Please fill out this application completely and the local author showcase coordinator will get in touch with you.

By signing below I understand that the Rampart Library District will not purchase a copy of my book. I can donate a copy and it will be considered for addition to the library collection if it meets selection guidelines. I also understand that the Rampart Library District will not sell my book for me. I can sell my book on my own terms at the showcase event. Finally I understand that the Rampart Library District is hosting this event, but does not in any way support or not support the subject matter of my book. This event is intended to be a way for local authors to present their creative literature.
